

Oaks Thursday 2nd April

Please note that sometimes people do not always tell the whole truth when they want to persuade someone to do something. When you read Harris's account of a sailor's life you will see how hard and unpleasant life could be. You may well have to bend the truth, miss certain truths out regarding a sailor's life in the 1700's and put all your persuasive powers into force, to persuade someone to come and join your ship's crew!
