English: Continue with writing up your interview, use your plan to help you. If you have finished your first section then choose another topic to write about. Remember your heading, picture. Write your sentences in the past tense, think about what you are writing about and make sure your sentences make sense. Don't forget capital letters, full stops, finger spaces and handwriting.

History: We are looking at the differences between old and new houses, how we can tell how old they are by looking at different features such as building materials, windows, chimneys. Look at the photographs attached to home learning page of the different types of houses. Think about what makes them old/new. Talk about what they look like, what they are built out of.

Then have a look at your house. Either draw your house or take a photograph of it. Decide whether your house is old or new. Think when it might have been built (10 years ago? 50 years ago? Or even older. Stick a picture of your house or draw it in the middle of a page of your book. Then label your house. Think about its features and how old it is. So for example:

This is my house. It was built in 1850 so it's 170 years old. It was originally a Methodist Chapel before becoming a house. It is built out of sandstone and has sash windows. It has 1 chimney in the middle.

P.E. Go outside, play in the garden, go for a run, walk, bike ride, play ball games, make up a dance routine, do a Joe Wicks' workout up to you.
