

Hello Everybody

I have been wondering whether any of you did anything for VE day. You can read about how I spent my day by going to the Class Blog on Purple Mash.

There is no French this week, but I would love to hear how you are all getting on via your blogs. I have read some fantastic blogs so far. Quite a few of you seem to have taken part in the record breaking scouting sleep-out challenge and a couple even sent me photos of your 'camp'. Ralph has been very busy in his garden and Elodie has seen a deer in the field next to her.

To add to your blog, you need to go to you are through to your blog, turn edit on then click on the . You will now be able to write your new blog post.

If you haven't started yet:

- select next to pupil blogs.
- Where it asks for name write your own name, so I know whose it is.
- You then need to add a heading under description e.g. Mia in Lockdown.
- Once you have done this, select the icon and cover picture you want.
- Save it.
- Once you have done this, you will be able to get into the section where you write your blog by following the instructions above.

I hope you're all getting on well with your plans for your decoy vessels. Maybe you've started making them already. I look forward to seeing them and photos of the completed decoy vessels.

Remember your decoy vessel can be of anything, it just has to have a secret hatch and a way of moving.

Here are a couple of plans I've seen:
