

Friday 19th June

Today is final write day. Take your time. Really craft your writing by choosing the best words and word order.

Decide what form the things that fly out of Pandora's box take and bring them to life with your writing.

I'm especially looking forward to reading these descriptions.

Remember this is not a story – it is a description so begin describing just as Pandora starts to open the box.

Listen to

Ms. P talks...description soundfile again if it helps from yesterday.

Off you go! Bring the contents of Pandora's box to life.