Good Morning Oaks

Today, some children in Reception, Y1 and Y6 will be returning to school. The teachers are looking forward to seeing them but we are also sorry that we have to wait a bit longer to see the rest of you. With that in mind, all the staff at school have been recording video clips and sending them to Helen, Mrs Edgeworth's very clever daughter, who is studying film making at university. Helen has been editing the clips to the soundtrack of one of our favourite assembly songs, and she has created a funny video so you don't forget us. We hope it will 'put a smile on your face' even 'when it's a rainy day'!

Here are your activities for today (remember that the children in school will be doing the same learning activities that you are doing at home).

Joe Wicks PE (or another type of physical activity) – you can still go outdoors even if it is raining. Someone said, 'There's no such thing as bad weather, just the wrong clothes'? (Maybe it was Mrs Bridge!)

Today is planning day. Follow Ms P's instructions so that you have everything ready to start writing your news reports tomorrow. (If they are half as good as the myths I've read today, we will be delighted).

Please find the tasks that Ms Pickard and Miss Bamber have set for today.

Computing and DT

Please see Mrs Smithson's instructions for French and Computing.

Have a good day, Miss Bamber
